"Buy it for fun." Newbury Weekly News --This text refers to an alternate Hardcover edition.

Alec is the author of the New York Times bestselling How to Talk to Girls, How to Talk to Moms, How to Talk to Dads, and How to Talk to Santa. Alec lives in Castle Rock, Colorado, with his family.

I chose this book after seeing the author (now an adult) on To Tell the Truth as the youngest author (8) to have a book on the New York Times best seller list. This is a short but humorous book.

My 9 year old son was embarrassed when I purchased this for him as a gift but I totally caught him reading it multiple times!!! It even inspired him to write a book on How to be Cool. I haven't seen his finished product but the fact that he is reading and is interested in writing is just perfect for me.

I taught fourth grade and the boys in the class read this book non-stop. One or two parents got all offended, came in all mad because they heard about "some book". When they actually read it they calmed down. The girls would read it and say, "yeah". The boys would read it and go, "oh, now I get it".

Great gag gift for an adult, especially since it's written by a child. Didn't read the entire thing, just skimmed it, and it had some good tips.

Clever book written by a young boy

Everything was great

His young beautiful mind spoke to my heart. I only wish I had this book when I was young. Great read!

The book is appropriate for boys in 4th, 5th, or 6th grades. It is a quick, simple read and might help boys at an awkward stage with early girl crushes.
