

The book was found

The Women Friends: Selina

Synopsis

*FINALIST: The Chanticleer Goethe Awards for Late Historical Fiction*Who is the young woman with the haunting gaze in Gustav Klimt's 1917 masterpiece, The Women Friends? Selina Brunner is running from the demons of her past, cut off from her family in a sleepy Tyrolean village, and lost in the soulless city of Vienna, where everything is even one's very existence is a lie. When, amidst growing fear of sinister developments in Vienna, an exotic stranger comes to town, Selina finds old passions reignited and her whole world turned upside down.The Women Friends: Selina is the first in a series of fictional tales about the women who inspired this great artist.

Book Information

File Size: 406 KB

Print Length: 140 pages

Simultaneous Device Usage: Unlimited

Publisher: Crooked Cat (December 1, 2016)

Publication Date: December 1, 2016

Sold by: Amazon Digital Services LLC

Language: English

ASIN: B01MAYPE7Z

Text-to-Speech: Enabled

X-Ray: Not Enabled

Word Wise: Enabled

Lending: Not Enabled

Screen Reader: Supported

Enhanced Typesetting: Enabled

Best Sellers Rank: #59,939 Paid in Kindle Store (See Top 100 Paid in Kindle Store) #231

in Amazon Books > Romance > Historical > 20th Century #3173 in Amazon Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Literature & Fiction > Historical Fiction #6235 in Amazon Books > Literature & Fiction > Genre Fiction > Historical

Customer Reviews

I highly recommend this book. I love, love loved it!!! I was sad that it had to end.

Authors Millar and Drori write: "in 1917, Gustav Klimt painted his sensuous masterpiece The Women Friends. Nothing is known about the two women in the painting, but it is thought they were a real couple." Selina is one of the women. If Selina is fictional, then the authors never let us realize that, instead they breathe such life into her, we must conclude that she is real. A country girl from the Tyrol area of Austria, born at the cusp of the new century, she goes to Vienna in 1917, to become an artist's model. Although, she fails at modeling, her love affair with Gustav Klimt's female muse, Janika, inspires Klimt to paint "The Women Friends." In telling Selina's story, the authors succeed in describing the hypocrisy of bohemian life of Vienna during World War I. The artists and members of this community had a desperate need to invalidate Viennese society at the same time they desperately sought funding from that same society and its wealthy citizens. Klimt died in 1918, but Selina's story continues long after his death. In the early 1930s, she lives through the crash of the banks, hyperinflation, the rise of anti-semitism and the mass strikes, after which, she notes that: "Broken glass lay glinting in the Viennese sunshine and dogs scavenged for food," and she asks, "how had this city of opera and Sachertorte slipped so swiftly into barbarism?" Throughout the telling of Selina's story, Klimt's influence on the authors is clear, as Klimt painted with color, so Millar and Drori paint with words. The authors write that the "tragic fate of the painting itself and ominous developments in Vienna in the early twentieth-century inspired us to write a series of stories, based on Klimt's women and some of his most renowned work," and this book is the first of the series. I look forward to their future work. (In return for an honest review, I received an advance copy from the publisher via NetGalley.)

I was given the chance to read this book from NetGalley in return for an honest review. This book is perfect for fans of historical fiction, with LGBTQ characters as well as an honest depiction of the "just before" Hitler claimed Austria during WW2. It's an important read for those reasons, as well. We can all too easily forget that it did seemingly happen "overnight" because these were emotions and opinions and feelings that had been brewing in the citizens minds well before Hitler came to power, before he stepped foot into Austria. He came to power because people were already agreeing with him about everything, including the final solution. We start off with Selina Brunner who has decided to move from the countryside to Vienna in hopes of escaping the destitute conditions world war one left much of the European countryside suffering from. She has experienced sexual assault in her past, and this is immediately brought up as one of the reasons why she was so eager to move; she needed to put her past permanently behind her. She struggles with this at first and it is not until she meets Janika, a Jewish muse of Gustav Klimts, that she is able to put action to her feelings and she falls in love with Janika. Their love is not to be, and after Janika marries a man, Selina is forced to meet other people. We see Selina meet a national socialist woman, but while they live together for a time and she does introduce her to her parents, they do not fall in love nor do they stay together. In the end, Selina makes a choice between staying utterly true to herself and how she identifies, or marrying a Roma man to help him escape. The entire book, while simple in some areas that begged for deeper character exploration, is one that I would say is important to read, especially right now with the way politics seem to be turning. It is a lie to say that things aren't already bad; that's how things like the Shoah happen. Things that were already bad, were purposely ignored until they had no choice but to come to a head in a way so horrible, there are no words to express. The author does a wonderful job of showing that it wasn't just Hitler that caused the Shoah to happen, but the people as well. And it was also people like Selina Brunner who helped others during this dark time so that it wasn't their last; while this story is fictitious, the heart of it rings true from page to page.

Download to continue reading...

The Women Friends: Selina Night Magic - Gothic and Halloween Coloring Book (Fantasy Coloring by Selina) (Volume 10) Fairy Magic - Whimsical Fantasy Coloring Book (Fantasy Colouring by Selina) (Volume 14) Enchanted Magical Forests - Grayscale Coloring Edition (Grayscale Coloring Books by Selina) (Volume 3) Gothic Minis - Pocket Sized Dark Fantasy Art Coloring Book (Fantasy Art Coloring by Selina) (Volume 11) Mermaid Minis - Pocket Sized Fantasy Art Coloring Book (Fantasy Coloring by Selina) (Volume 13) Goddess and Mythology Coloring Book (Fantasy Coloring by Selina) (Volume 9) Mythical Mermaids - Fantasy Adult Coloring Book (Fantasy Coloring by Selina) (Volume 8) Fairy Art - Grayscale Coloring Edition (Grayscale Coloring Books by Selina) (Volume 1) Fairy Companions Coloring Book - Fairy Romance, Dragons and Fairy Pets (Fantasy Art Coloring by Selina) (Volume 4) Victorian Romance - The Memory's Wake Coloring Book (Fantasy Colouring by Selina) (Volume 13) Attract Women: Be Irresistible: How to Effortlessly Attract Women and Become the Alpha Male Women Can't Resist (Dating Advice for Men to Attract Women) Attract Women: Unlock Her Legs: How to Effortlessly Attract Women and Become the Man Women Unlock Their Legs For (Dating Advice for Men to Attract Women) Attract Women: Hey to Lay: The 7 Steps to Approaching Women, Unlocking Her Attraction and Her Legs (Dating Advice for Men on How to Approach Women and Attract Women) Fairies & Friends: Enchanting Fairies and Friends to Color Friends That Still... (Friends That Have Sex Book 2) Family Games: Fun Games To Play With Family and Friends (Games and Fun Activities For Family Children Friends Adults and Kids To Play Indoors or Outdoors) Thomas & Friends 5-Minute Stories: The Sleepytime Collection (Thomas & Friends) Super Friends: Going Bananas (DC Super Friends) (Step into Reading) Super Friends: Flying High (DC Super Friends) (Step into Reading)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help