Jack Erjavec has become a fixture in the automotive textbook publishing world. He has decades of experience as a technician, educator, author, and editor, and has authored or co-authored more than 30 automotive textbooks and training manuals. Erjavec holds a master's degree in vocational and technical education from Ohio State University, and he spent twenty years at Columbus State Community College as an instructor and administrator. A long-time affiliate of the North American Council of Automotive Teachers, he also served as executive vice-president for the organization and spent several years on its board of directors. Erjavec is also associated with ATMC, SAE, ASA, ATRA, AERA, and other automotive professional associations.

These book are great and informative but, unfortunately, I did not receive the classroom manual. It is not worth returning since I bought a used set and with shipping cost, it will not be worth the time and money. I will have to look elsewhere. Update: I contacted the supplier and they were able to refund the amount so kudos to them and for their assistance. I did place an order for another set and will arrive soon.

The book is great and it came fast. I used this book in a class I took and wanted one for my personal use. The original price I paid for it back then was over a $100 bucks this was a bargain.

Easy to read and understand reasonably price excellent delivery time.

good value

Descent text

A little long ..but worth the time and education

Great book and in great condition

as a text book this manual is used in conjunction with a shop manual. there is a lot of good info inside but the organization and layout can make it a little hard to slog through.
