MARFE FERGUSON DELANO is the author of 16 books for National Geographic, including Genius, A Photobiography of Albert Einstein, which was an Orbis Pictus Honor Book, and Inventing the Future: A Photobiography of Thomas Alva Edison. Her latest titles for National Geographic are Helen's Eyes, a Photobiography of Annie Sullivan and Master George's People. Delano is a graduate of Duke University

I live in Ireland and I sent this to my granddaughter in San Francisco. She is almost 6 and lives in an apartment. She enjoyed the experience of watching the Butterflies emerge and then letting them go in the park. On a sad note the first lot of caterpillars she received arrived dead but more were sent. It might be a good idea to check the state of the caterpillars before you let the child see the kit.

Good book with beautiful pictures.

Prefect for prek and kindergarten

Very good product

Good Book

Colorful and informative

The two-year-old I bought this for has been absolutely enchanted with it. He has me read it to him over and over (not sure if that's the upside or the downside!)

Love it
