Revelation Of The Unknowable God: With Text, Translation, And Notes To Nhc Xi, 3 Allogenes (California Classical Library)

Synopsis

Among the Gnostic treasures uncovered at Nag Hammadi in 1945 is this extraordinary spiritual narrative. In it, a third-century narrator known as Allogenesâ "the Foreignerâ "recounts a series of visions and divine revelations. He describes his spiritual progress: how he overcomes fear and ignorance and ascends into the divine realm as he experiences the transcendent Unknowable God. Karen King, a contributor to The Nag Hammadi Library in English, provides a new English translation of this work, along with complete original-language Coptic text, introduction, and extensive notes.

Karen King is Winn Professor of Ecclesiastical History at Harvard University in the Divinity School. An occasional consultant to the Ford Foundation on Religion and Human Rights, Dr. King has received awards from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Deutsche Akademische Austauschdienst, Harvard Divinity School, the Irvine Foundation, and Occidental College. She is the author of The Gospel of Mary of Magdala, What Is Gnosticism?, Revelation of the Unknowable God, and scores of articles in scholarly publications.

Karen King is literally "King" of early Christian research...the text is research oriented but absolutely required for any study of Gnostic or early Christian history. King's book on the Gospel of Mary is an easier read and the most fascinating and best documented historical text on Mary Magdalene as the 1st Lady of Christianity, wife of Jesus, and designated primary Apostle meant to lead the teachings of the early church on His passing.

The edition of this beautiful text is given in coptic diplomatic form and with its english translation. It is definitely an exquisite book in its contents and presentation, full of very useful scholarly notes, which add a very rich value to the book. This is a book worth having for scholars and for any lover of christian, gnostic or religious studies.
