Because of the density of villages in France, and elsewhere in Europe, it is a maze of lines. It would help if it was stretched out more and with a bigger font. It's been a long time since I taught map reading as a DI in the Green Machine, and my eyes aren't what they used to be. Neither is anything else! I got a local print shop to photocopy at double size and it is much easier to plan my sweep of all the beaches in two days. If I get a copyright complaint, I've been through worse. With better maps. Been through many courtroom battles also.

It's kind of big Ã¢Â Â¦ Makes me wonder how I'm supposed to spread the whole thing out on my lap while trying to find my way around in France, but as far as detail goes, you can't beat this. I still haven't made the trip, so I'll see how helpful it is.

Great map. Excellent detail. Very large when unfolded.

The map was overall very helpful, albeit a bit large. That's what you can expect when you are looking for detail. We just back folded it to the section we were traveling in.

just what we wanted

Covered too large an area. Wanted one to show just the area of the Normandy beaches and Bayeux.
