ROSS PENHALL is an internationally acclaimed artist whose work is represented by Gallery Jones in Vancouver and Caldwell Snyder in the United States. Ross was born in Vancouver and attended art school at Emily Carr University of Art and Design and at Capilano College. He worked as a firefighter for almost 29 years and retired in 2010. Ross paints full time at his studio in North Vancouver. He has two grown children and lives in Horseshoe Bay with his wife Caron Penhall.

I've been a HUGE fan of Ross Penhall's art since I saw it featured in an art magazine a decade ago For years I've craved a Ross Penhall ... but I'm not eligible for original paintings that cost thousands of dollars, and he didn't have any posters/ giclees ... until now! Now I can, and soon will, frame several of his pieces. They'll be smaller pieces (size 8"x10" and smaller), but that's waaaaaay better than nothing, which is what I had before. (Well, other than the image I scanned from the magazine and have used on my home computer's "wallpaper.") I am SO GLAD he made a beautiful coffee table book. Something about the style and colors of his trees, grasses, shade/light, with the occasional road thrown in, really makes something in my brain buzz with happiness.After looking through the book, I also noticed that my favorite (and way more expensive) Motawi art tiles and originals (I got them for $99 hanging in a Thai restaurant) from JR Harris are quite similar. Complimentary but not matching.It's a delight to the rest of us when artists make affordable, quality reproductions of their work available to the masses. Thank you to everyone who helped this work come to print.

Beautiful book! Makes me miss Vancouver and California.
