Moral Philosophy: A Reader

Synopsis

This collection of classic and contemporary readings in ethics presents sharp, competing views on a wide range of fundamentally important topics: moral relativism and objectivism, ethical egoism, value theory, utilitarianism, deontological ethics, virtue ethics, ethics and religion, and applied ethics. The Fourth Edition dramatically increases the volume's utility by expanding and updating the selections and introductions while retaining the structure that has made previous editions so successful.

"A nice blend of classic readings in moral philosophy supplemented by numerous modern pieces. I plan to use this text as the centerpiece of my course for years to come."—Michael A. Growden, United States Air Force Academy

Louis P. Pojman (1935-2005) was Professor of Philosophy, United States Military Academy. Peter Tramel is Assistant Professor of Philosophy, United States Military Academy.

This book is fantastic. My wife and I audited at 5 week class at Mt Mercy University the the eye toward incorporating a philosophy class into a high school curriculum (theology). Not having prior information about the class since we were informally auditing, we learned about it late. I went for the cheaper price (and yes, it was like new). I had some skepticism about being from Canada and getting here on a quick schedule, without paying extra for delivery. We had it in hand on the 3rd class. This gives the basics of philosophers, including the ones we were most interested in, Aristotle, Kant, St. Thomas Aquinas.

This book is great for anyone with a broad philosophical background. It is a compilation of excerpts from popular philosophers such as Plato, Immanuel Kant, Thomas Aquinas, Ayn Rand and many more. The standpoints of these philosophers are categorized in a clear and obvious fashion.
