Customer Reviews

Daisy Meadows has written over one hundred books for children. Her RAINBOW MAGIC series is a New York Times bestseller!

This was purchased for my granddaughter who loves all the Fairy series my four-year-old loves these. they are not to advanced, yet not as "baby" as her other books. they still have a few pictures too, which is a plus. probably would be good for kids learning how to read. the chapters aren't very long.

My Kindergartener loves this series. As a reward for reading her first very simple books, she was allowed to pick out a book online, and she went right to the Rainbow Magic series. She selected this particular one because of the badge on the front that says it includes jewel stickers. The book that arrived was the same title, but without the badge on the front and therefore without the stickers; she was sorely disappointed.

Granddaughter loves it!

I purchased this book for my granddaughter, along with four more of them in the same series. They arrived in perfect condition in a box that was sturdy with an inflatable packing pouch. I recommend these cute books for children within a certain reading level. However, I would not purchase them on again. Why? After paying for this item, I discovered my credit card number had been compromised and was used by a place called Home Savings Mall that made an unauthorized membership charge to my card that I didn't know about. When I called them, they told me they got my CC number and authorization from . Shame on you for selling me out for a few bucks. Customer service wouldn't do anything about it, either. BUYER BEWARE!!

My 9 year old has by now read about all of the Rainbow Fairy books. They are generally very well written with decent b&w illustrations on almost every page that's appropriate for the age. The length of the book also makes it easy to finish easily so you can move on to the next one. The characters in the book also generally show good manners and will not be a negative role model for the kids.

Great product thanks

My daughter was very happy to receive this.
