Andrew Wilson-Dickson holds a doctorate in music composition from York University. He has been since 1984 a Principal Lecturer at the Welsh College of Music and Drama in Cardiff, and involved in music at his local church and with the Cambrensis, the South Wales Baptist Choir.

This was very interesting as an introduction to all types of music. I learned something. Gospel can be borderline R&B. Pay attention to the words and what type of instruments are played. That is the clue. Thanks. Good looking out.

Bought as gift and he really likes it.

I have had to take numerous music history classes for my music degree. What the text summarizes, this book quantifies. This is a great book over the evolution of christian music from ancient time to present.

Just as shown in listing

This book is great. It helps you to really understand more about Christian music and the real origins. I found it easy to read and follow.

I got what I expected on time. Couldn't ask for more.
