

The book was found

One Hand Clapping: Zen Stories For All Ages

Synopsis

When is a tiger not a tiger? When is a mountain more than a mountain? What is the sound of one hand clapping? The stories of this collection come from the Zen Buddhist tradition-- from tales told by the Buddha himself to anecdotes from the lives of the Zen masters of China and Japan who helped pass on the Buddha's teachings. These stories reflect the wisdom, directness, and spontaneity of which Zen is known. Zen stories delight as they challenge, enchant as they point towards a different way of seeing things. In the simple language of stories passed down over hundreds of years, this collection can point us toward our own natural Mind of wisdom, insight, peace, and compassion. They help us see past our seeming differences into what is the same for all of us. Rafe Martin, a student of Zen for over 25 years, introduces these tales, providing both background and insight into the collection. Junko Morimoto's beautiful illustrations reflect the tranquility, wit, and power of these stories.

Book Information

Hardcover: 48 pages

Publisher: Rizzoli (April 15, 1995)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0847818535

ISBN-13: 978-0847818532

Product Dimensions: 8.3 x 0.5 x 8.2 inches

Shipping Weight: 13.6 ounces

Average Customer Review: 4.8 out of 5 stars 10 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #1,070,707 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #14 in Books > Children's Books > Literature & Fiction > Religious Fiction > Buddhist #541 in Books > Children's Books > Literature & Fiction > Religious Fiction > Other Religious Fiction #813 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Philosophy > Eastern > Buddhism > Zen > Philosophy

Customer Reviews

This thought-provoking collection, designed "for the tender heart that children and adults naturally share," provides a window onto the contemplative nature of Buddhism. The selections offer many layers of meaning for different levels of interest. Whether they concern a baby fish asking a wise old fish to explain the sea ("When you swim you reveal its presence. It's just because it's so close to you that it's very hard to see") or a would-be swordsman who must first learn patience before he learns his desired skill, the stories all illumine, stimulate, instruct and ultimately hint at ageless truths. Like beads on a necklace, the stories are strung together and unified by Morimoto's (My Hiroshima) agile illustrations. Her diverse styles range from watercolors to pen-and-ink, from charcoals to cartoons. Gracefully compiled and beautifully designed, this is a one-of-a-kind book. All ages. Copyright 1995 Cahners Business Information, Inc.

"A fragrant bouquet of Zen flowers that do not talk but say so much, adapted and retold by that masterful storyteller Rafe Martin. One Hand Clapping is a book parents and children are going to enjoy sharing."--Philip Kapleau (author, Three Pillars of Zen)"Gentle lessons in fun stories with amusing illustrations-- this is a book that will appeal to the young of all ages."--Robert Aitken (author, The Gateless Barrier)

If you like Jon Muth's "Zen Shorts" for children, about the panda named Stillwater and his interactions with 3 children, you will love "One Hand Clapping." "One Hand Clapping" came out in 1995, much earlier than "Zen Shorts" and is unsurpassed in the story selection and the beauty of its illustrations. Each tale is a self-contained page or two, written in simple, elegant language, with beautiful illustrations. In collections of Jataka Tales (from India), or even in folktales from Japan, China or other Asia cultures, you may encounter stories and fables whose morality does not necessarily translate into today's values, and/or into Western morality. But this is a collection of stories that I think will resonate with, if not move, most modern Western readers. One story I remember from my prior ownership of this book is the story of a nun who sought shelter for the night in a village but the villagers turned her down. It was going to be very cold that night. She walked out of town and up a hillside and slept under a cherry tree. The night was so cold, the ground was covered with frost by the morning. When she awoke. She looked up into the tree and saw the sunlight shining through the frosted cherry blossoms. She was dazzled by the beauty of it. She stood up and bowed towards the village and composed a haiku in which she thanked them, for through their actions she was able to experience the sight of the sunlight on frosted sakura. One reason I want to find this book again is to re-read that haiku. Fifteen years ago this story stunned me. Part of the lesson was not "let go of anger" it was that she didn't have the anger in the first place. She was truly living a Buddhist life. Since my first reading years ago, I have learned other lessons by remembering this story. The great Zen stories are like that---one may get more and more meaning out of it over time. I have taught the pre-school class at our Buddhist temple for 9 years and this book contains stories that neither I nor our reverend had heard before. I lent this book out once years ago and it was never returned. I have been looking for this book in Buddhist bookstores and in the religion sections of major bookstores but none of them knew about it nor carried it. I am delighted to find a few copies here through .

I read this book while sitting in a book store one day after not being able to put it down. It is a compilation of simplified tales and fables from the Zen perspective. Though this is a book intended for children I think many adults would appreciate this book to and this would make a great book to read to a child. The tales are very simple yet hold a lot of deep meaning and one could think about them a long time while gleaning new insights. The illustrations are neat too. Over all a very gentle and beautiful book which I would highly recommend. I am getting a copy for my mom for Christmas!

very good for all ages

Beautiful stories. I use them to illustrate zen teachings.

The perfect little book with big messages, the whole family can come together and talk about after evening chores. * smiles*

Sometimes it's so obvious we can't see it. Coming from a Christian background, when I first bought this book, it was impossible to see the simple threads that run all through these stories: patience of the little child awaiting a persimmon, the nun being turned away and then beholding the splendor of nature itself. The stories are simple, easy to read, and deeply profound. The artwork is insightfully accomplished. Most of us have had experiences which parallel the stories, and therein lies the power of this wonderful book!

This is an excellent book for both adults and children. I read it with my children and they keep it as a prized possession. They read it on their own and I have bought multiple copies as gifts for relatives. This will be some of the best money you'll ever spend.

I always liked Zen and Sufi stories, and this book has some good ones. Beautiful illustrations... This book may be a good gift to someone who is dear to you and has interest in spirituality.

Download to continue reading...

One Hand Clapping: Zen Stories for All Ages ZEN: Everything You Need to Know About Forming Zen Habits â “ A Practical Guide to Find Inner Peace, Practice Mindfulness & Learn Zen Meditation

(Zen Buddhism, Zen Mastery, Zen for Beginners) Zen Buddhism: How Zen Buddhism Can Create A Life of Peace, Happiness and Inspiration (Zen Buddhism for Beginners, Zen, Zen Books) Zen: Beginnerâ€™s Guide to Understanding & Practicing Zen Meditation to Become Present (Zen for Beginners, Zen Meditation, Zen Habits, Meditation for Beginners) Zen: Zen For Beginners â€“ The Ultimate Guide To Incorporating Zen Into Your Life â€“ A Zen Buddhism Approach To Happiness And Inner Peace Zen: How to Practice Zen Everywhere in Your Daily Life (FREE Bonus Inside) (Zen Meditation, Zen for Beginners, Buddhism) Zen Flesh Zen Bones: A Collection of Zen and Pre-Zen Writings Zen and Zen Classics 1: From the Upanishads to Huineng (Zen & Zen Classics) Bedtime Stories for Kids: Short Bedtime Stories for Children: (Bedtime Stories for Babies, Bedtime stories for Kids Ages 4-8, Uncle Nick's Bedtime Stories ... (Uncle Nick's Bedtime Stories for Kids) Bedtime Stories for Children: Short Bedtime Stories for Kids: (Bedtime Stories for Babies, Bedtime stories for Kids Ages 4-8, Uncle Nick's Fun Bedtime ... Nick's Bedtime Stories for Kids Book 3) Bedtime Stories for Kids: Short Bedtime Stories for Children: (Bedtime Stories for Babies, Bedtime stories for Kids Ages 4-8, Uncle Nick's Fun Bedtime ... Nick's Bedtime Stories for Kids Book 1) Ultimate Beginner Have Fun Playing Hand Drums for Bongo, Conga and Djembe Drums: A Fun, Musical, Hands-On Book and CD for Beginning Hand Drummers of All Ages, Book & CD (The Ultimate Beginner Series) BEST OF CALLIGRAPHY NOTEBOOK. Creative Hand Lettering: 4 Types of lined pages to practice Hand Lettering + 2 illustrated Hand-Lettered styles. Calligraphy Workbook (Lettering calligraphy) All-in-One Sunday School Volume 1: When you have kids of all ages in one classroom All-in-One Sunday School Volume 2: When you have kids of all ages in one classroom All-in-One Sunday School Volume 3: When you have kids of all ages in one classroom Cooking for One: 365 Recipes For One, Quick and Easy Recipes (Healthy Cooking for One, Easy Cooking for One, One Pot, One Pan) Zen Action/Zen Person Zen Coloring - Flowers (Zen Coloring Book) Shodo: The Quiet Art of Japanese Zen Calligraphy; Learn the Wisdom of Zen Through Traditional Brush Painting

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help